DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-7, 11, drawn to an anti-CEA antibody and hybridoma, classified in class 530, subclass 388.85.
 - II. Claims 8-9, 10 and 14 in part, drawn to polynucleotides, vectors, and host cells and method of producing an antibody, classified in class 536, subclass 23.53. If Group III is elected claims 10 and 14 will be examined to the extent they read on host cells that are not transgenic non-human or transgenic plants.
 - III. Claims 10 and 14 in part, drawn to transgenic non-human mammal and a method of producing an antibody in the transgenic non-human-mammal, classified in class 800, subclass 8.
 - IV. Claims 10 and 14 in part, drawn to a transgenic plant and method of producing an antibody in a transgenic plant, classified in class 800, subclass 295.
 - V. Claim 15, drawn to a method of treatment with an antibody, classified in class 424, subclass 130.1.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Groups I-IV represent separate and distinct products which are made by materially different methods, and are used in materially different methods which have different modes of operation, different functions and different effects. The polynucleic acid of Group II, the antibody of Group I, the transgenic plant of Group IV and the transgenic non-human of Group III are all structurally and chemically different from each other. The polynucleotide is made by nucleic acid synthesis, while the antibody is raised by immunization and the transgenic non-human and plant are made by mating or cross breeding techniques. Furthermore, the polynucleotide can be used for hybridization screening and the antibody can be used to immunopurify the antigen, for example. The examination of all groups would require different searches in the U.S. Patent shoes and the scientific literature and would require the consideration of different patentability issues. Thus the inventions I-IV are patentably distinct.

Inventions I and V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the antibody of Group I can be used in a materially different method such as to purify the antigen in addition to the materially different method of Group V.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and different classifications, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1642

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
